BIGGEST MISTAKES

TRAINING INSTITUTIONS, CHURCHES OR HOUSES OF WORSHIP, AND COMMUNITY BASED ORGANIZATIONS

Would Like To Avoid When Trying To Empower Community Residents
& Other Community Stakeholders

1

Treating the residents ^{and} the community in general like they are a "problem" that needs to be solved.

2

Treating the residents ^{and} the community in general like your organization is the "savior" and they should be grateful that you took time out of your schedule to get involved.

Trying to engage the residents ^{and}

other community stakeholders through activities hosted during inflexible time slots at locations that require them to travel far distances.

4

Using outdated volunteer model

when establishing a presence within the community.

5

Using outdated outreach ^{and}

resource distribution model (e.g. food, toiletries, household goods, etc.) which leads to inconsistent supply and/or unfavorable options to choose from when supplies are available.
